

What's up with eShuffleboard.com?

For the past 3 months I've been trying to put something into words and not having any luck. I'd start putting together the Sunday afternoon email and I would procrastinate until I could safely say that I didn't have time to write up what I wanted to say and do it right. Well, here it is 6PM 7PM 730PM. This is the time I usually use that excuse not to say what I need to say.

I had hoped that the October The Red Baron Speaks and the post Reno letter from Jeff Posthumus would speak to this issue (and I wouldn't have to) and that's the reason both are still posted on the home page of eshuffleboard.com.

From Larry Creakbaum:

"With and estimated over three thousand players in this country and Canada, if only ¼ of you contributed a few dollars to <http://www.eshuffleboard.com> and joined TSA, the two forums may able to join forces for a monthly news letter again."

From Jeff Posthumus:

"Ann is relentless in her contributions to our sport. Her website, <http://www.eshuffleboard.com> is a great tool for all of us to keep up on the action and keep informed. Of course there are other websites that are in use for us as well. I can tell you that Ann's efforts and spirit is an inspiration to all of us. Please help support Ann and her website if you can. Maybe take a collection at a local tournament for her. She does her site free. This is a lot of work, and she could use any help we can offer."

So there you have it. I'm asking for contributions as much as I don't want to and wish that I didn't have to. Contributing to my lack of disposable income are a newly insured teen driver (yes, he's working and helping to pay) and a really big bill for repairs to a really old car (mine). I Reno also set me back as I had to take it unpaid as I have no vacation yet. Steps I have taken is to cut back on my playing/traveling and it shows in the slow reporting of Indiana events since I'm unable to attend most.

By all means, join or rejoin the TSA. Contribute to the Bower's Ratings©, but please consider sending a few dollars to eshuffleboard.com if you are so inclined.

Thanks!

Ann Harrell

PS Don't worry that eshuffleboard.com will go under because I won't let it. Merry Christmas and Happy New Year!
