Kinsey sweeps Journey's End events

BOURBON, Ind. — The folks at Journey's End Bar & Grill hadn't planned in advance to have a shuffleboard tournament over the Fourth of July, but decided to have an impromptu event at the last minute.

There were two events — an A/B draw and a singles. The A/B attracted 10 teams and 14 played in the singles.

It turned out to be a great weekend for Dennis Kinsey.

He and Dave Petteys teamed to win the doubles tournament. Vicki Morgan-Keith Spencer finished second with Uriah Graham-Matt Senff finishing third.

Kinsey accomplished the sweep when he grabbed first place in the singles event. Buddy Broka was second with Jim Long in third and Randy Redman finishing fourth.

Jim Koontz, of Journey's End, sweetened the pot, adding $50 to each event.

The next Journey's end event is Amateur Doubles/Singles as well as a Pro Shootout on Aug. 28.

Surprises pleasant in first 15 weeks

by Jim Manders, publisher

When the idea to start a table shuffleboard “ezine” using email as the vehicle for publication hit, I wasn’t sure what kind of response it would receive.

May, June, July and most of August have raced by and today marks the 15th edition of Lagging4s. It doesn’t seem like that long, but I guess that’s the way time flies when you’re doing something fun.

I am continually humbled by your responses.

Not all of reactions have been of the cheerleader variety, but I won’t say there have been many that weren’t positive or supportive in some way, even when they had questions.

My oldest friends — in the Pacific Northwest — were concerned that I might not stick this project out very long. Print products “Board Bits” of the early ’90s went by the wayside pretty quickly as did “Shuffleboard Northwest” of more recent years.

Gathering and writing shuffleboard news from the Pacific Northwest was fun. Making the copies, folding them and stuffing them into envelopes and putting on the stamps made me crazy and took far longer than the writing.

When I copied the idea of an email publication from the Evergreen Shuffleboard Association, it felt like I’d hit on a solution that was something that would last longer than a short while.

And while my oldest friends asked questions, they have turned into staunch supporters in this effort to create a worldwide information source for table shuffleboard players.

Lagging4s has brought new friends.

Ed Galke, from New York, was one of the first. Long letters of support and thoughts about the game he’s played since before a lot of us were born. I wish he’d write more often and share some for publication.

There’s Ann Harrell in Indiana who’s one of the people who prints out a couple of copies each week and puts them out to read at Journey’s End Bar & Grill in Bourbon.

Steve “CoCo” Brown does the same in Michigan.

A fellow in Florida checked out several “Home Board” locations in that listing to make sure they still had boards. I dumped old emails recently and lost his name. I apologize for not telling people who you are, but thank you.

Seattle-area player Dennis Smith sent in the first profile and he’s also told me about some of places he plays and some that were in the listing, but didn’t have boards.

Then there’s Bob Davidson from Bellflower, Calif. who absolutely blew me away with his suggestion that Lagging4s and the fancy West Coast Shuffleboard News that he publishes with Paul Weber share information. Columns from Chris Brown were part of that deal.

West Coast Shuffleboard News is published quarterly and you can subscribe by writing.

Robert L. Hoffman recently sent an email suggesting Lagging4s

Watch for a new Billy Mays story coming Sept. 4

republish the newest Billy Mays story and to tell me about a Texas shuffleboard place that doesn’t have a table any longer.

The writer and publication where the story appears have graciously given Lagging4s permission to reprint the article and it will be published here on Sept. 4.

There were two more big surprises last week.

I found one while doing an internet search for shuffleboard places in Stockton, Calif. Don’t ask me how I got there, but I ended up at the website of American Legion Post #593 in Converse, Texas. There I found a link to the most recent issue of Lagging4s.

Then a friend in Oregon let me know that I should look at the website for the Halifax Shuffleboard Association. Not only do they have a link to the magazine, but people wanting to get their own copy at home can send an email right from the site.

Thanks to American Legion Post #593 and the Halifax Shuffleboard Association for helping to spread the word about our great game.

I’d be ungrateful if I didn’t thank all of the people who’ve sent emails saying “Keep up the good work.” Each one of those meant a great deal to me.

Finding Lagging4s posted on websites rekindled my thinking about having a website. Unfortunately, that’s my total knowledge of websites. I know they exist. To go any farther with that idea will mean finding someone who’s interested in putting a site together and maintaining it regularly. Unless one can be designed that I could take care of easily. If you have skills in that area, I’d be interested in hearing your ideas. And the cost.

Now that you know how great things have been going for Lagging4s I’m going to ask everyone one you for something.

Don’t quit reading now, I’m not going to ask for money.

What I want is more.

More stories about your leagues; more information about upcoming tournaments; more pictures; more listings for Home Boards; more letters and opinion pieces; more tournament results; more of your writing about the game; more of anything you want to give to the world of table shuffleboard; to lag more (any) 4s.

Last, but definitely not least.

From my heart to yours: Thank you for reading.

If you didn’t get a player profile sheet email: lagging4s@olympus.net
