Let's Play!!!!

The Skagit Longboard Association was organized in 1992 to save shuffleboard in the Skagit Valley, and serve the interests of players, sponsors, and spectators. We now boast 20 teams, with over 130 members most of whom are always ready and happy to play a "friendly" game!

Time for a national shuffleboard confab

There's nothing like a couple of weeks in the hospital to make you realize how comfortable the bed at home feels.

LAGGING
4S
BY JIM MANDERS

My apologies to Lagging4s readers and advertisers for missing two issues of the weekly on-line table shuffleboard ezine. Advertisers will get a couple of extra weeks to make up for the misses.

I still face some health issues, but there's nothing that should prevent me from publishing the magazine weekly in the future.

To the people who filled my email in-box with good wishes, Thank You.

Your words and thoughts are greatly appreciated.

Something that's been constantly reinforced since the magazine started is how much shuffleboard players care about the game and how many ideas they have to make it better. Many are willing to share their ideas — not always for publication — and I've been lucky enough to see some pretty interesting thoughts.

In fact, I've seen enough thoughtful ideas to make me believe there needs to be a international table shuffleboard meeting to discuss the future of the sport in the very near future.

National tournaments, a professional tour, a national organization to govern the game, league promotion, acquiring national sponsorship and shuffleboard's place on television are among the topics that seem to be on players' minds.

The meeting — which might need 3 or 4 days to complete — could be held in any major city and proximity to table shuffleboard doesn't need to be a major factor in the choice. In fact, it might be better if there weren't shuffleboards around so people attending the meeting aren't distracted.

Anyone should be able to attend and take part in the discussions as long as they are willing to pay a registration fee that would be used to pay for a facilitator to keep the talks on-target.

What happens after the meeting?

Good question. The attendees could create committees to look at ideas the group feels should be investigated more thoroughly with deadlines for making a report to table shuffleboard players.

What do you think?

No volunteers, no tournaments

Have You Volunteered Lately?

Tabletop Shuffleboard Tournaments could not be run without those blessed people who volunteer their time and services. You see some of their efforts – but much of the work is done out of sight.

Take the wonderful women who spend hours shopping and cooking, who appear each day of a three to four day tournament with food to feed fifty people – the cost of which quite often comes out of their own pocket. Did you thank the ladies who provided the food at the last tournament you were at? Did you volunteer to bring a dish? Did you help clean up? If you're going to eat, look for a way to help!

When you walk in to the club, bar or lodge in the morning all set to play – have you ever noticed that the boards have been buffed and sprayed? The old wax is gone from the boards and the jars are all filled with new wax? The floors have been swept or vacuumed and all that wax we threw around yesterday is gone? Chances are that was done somewhere between 2 and 7 a.m. while you were in bed sleeping.

SHUFFLEGAL

Tournament Directors – those wonderful people who get the praise or blame if a tournament goes well or not. I do not know of one person who has directed a tournament who has not secretly said to him or herself “This is the last time I do this!” If they haven't, I want to nominate them for sainthood! It is not their fault if your partner got drunk, or your rating made you the ‘A’ in the ABC, or that the tournament is running behind because one match took an overly long time. Please, do try to not ask them to teach you how to read a bracket board when they are in the middle of a shot. It is not their job to find your drink when you've misplaced it. Or to figure out where you left your weights. Or to replace the toilet paper in the bathroom. Chances are they were one of the first people there in the morning and one of the last to leave at night. If they are doing the bracketing, they probably haven't left the building all day. If you can find one small way to do something to help them, do it.

If you can think of one thing to volunteer to do to help make the tournament better – please feel free to jump right in and help. The majority of the responsibility for a tournament falls on the locals running it. Usually you have the same five or six people who do most of the work. Help them. Even if it's just picking up empty glasses or trash off the tables. If you are a local person, ask before the tournament if there is any way you can help? If you are ‘between games’ during the tournament, ask if there's anything you can do? Does the bartender need help washing glasses? Are the trashcans overflowing? Do the wax jars need filling? If everyone at a tournament volunteered five minutes each – just think how delightful that would be!

Whether you can find some way to help out or not – there is always one thing each of us who attend a tournament should do. Smile and say “Thank You” to the people who volunteer their time! Without them, there wouldn't be any tournaments!

A very appreciative Shufflegal.

It's news to us

- * Pre-tournament stories (when, where, all that stuff).
- * Tournament results (who won, who didn't. Tidbits of info to make the story more interesting. Pictures). List all players in the tourney
- * League news.
- * Fun shoots you're planning to have, or that you had.
- * Outside activities that shuffleboard players enjoy together.
- * New products.
- * New (or old) places to play that aren't already listed in “Home Boards.”
- * Notes about players who might be having health problems, or who have recently recovered.
- * Marriages.
- * Humor.
- * Letters to the editor. (Any subject, no name calling).
- * Your own column. (No, you wouldn't have to write it weekly, but you could).
- * Fiction about the game.
- * Your feelings about the game. (It has great emotional highs . . .and lows)
- * Personality stories. (Who's the most interesting player in your area?)
